Dear Bryson,

As the result of one FOIA lawsuit after you were here I've gotten well over 100,000 pages of formerly secret FBI records.

I go over them with some regularity and make separate copies for subject filing. The records as I receive them stay that way for the university archive in which they will all end.

Last night I came across some new ones on Hall.

Who I regard as an ingrate and whose conduct was unprincipled.

I have no personal interest in the pictures he stole after I trusted both of you not to. I never had any intention of publishing them or using them in any way. He has become part of history in his own way, my writing on that is past so far as I can anticipate, and my interest is in preserving an historical record.

If he wants any of the stuff I find a precondition is the return of what he stole.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
